Egypt signs $2.3 billion oil, gas agreements August 17, 2009

CAIRO, Aug 17 (Reuters) - Egypt has signed agreements for oil and natural gas exploration that are expected to bring in new investments of $2.3 billion, according to an official at the Oil Ministry.

"Of the total, five are extensions and amendments to already existing deals and one is a completely new deal," the official told Reuters.

The deals were signed with BP PLC IEOC, a unit of Italy's Eni, and Egyptian firm Tharwa on Sunday for exploration in the Eastern Desert, Nile Delta, Gulf of Suez and North Sinai.
